WILLIAM LORD.

HAMBURGH, November 2.

WE have received certain advice, that the Ruſſian Troops, to the number of 80,000 men, paſſed by Mittau the 10th of laſt month, in their way to Pruſſia.

London, Nov. 25 Capt. O'Hara in a Xebeque of 16 guns, and the Fortune ſloop of war, are ordered to cruize continually between Gibraltar and Malaga for the protection of the trade; and we are aſſured that the Spaniſh court has given notice, that they will not countenance any French privateer who ſhall wait in their ports in order to follow any Engliſh ſhip at her departure.

We learn from Naples, that ſome miniſters in great credit with his Sicilian majeſty have entered very warmly into the propoſition for allowing Britiſh ſhips of war to winter and careen in their harbours, alledging, that it was not only agreeable to treaties, but that it was likewiſe beneficial to the ſubjects of the Two Sicilies, and would probably prove the means of cementing the good underſtanding between the two nations, and promote and enlarge that commerce which is reciprocally advantageous to both.

It is ſaid that lord Loudoun has deſired a reinforcement of 5 000 men at leaſt, whom he recommends to be accoutred in the manner of the Highland regiment. He alſo deſires a draught from the train of artillery, with ſome field pieces.

Admiral Byng, we hear, is allowed to remove to his own houſe, where he is to be in the cuſtody of the marſhal of the court of admiralty.

Warſaw, Oct. 30 According to letters from Livonia and Courland, the Ruſſian army is in full march; and M. Steffel, quarter maſter-general, is buſy in regulating their quarters, and forming magazines for them in Poliſh Livonia. They will pay ready money, and the price of every thing is to be fixed.

Vienna, Nov 6. Our auguſt ſovereign has formally demanded the aſſiſtance of the Germanic body, by virtue of the ſolemn guaranty of the pragmatic ſanction and of the treaty of Dreſden, to which it acceded. Her majeſty has alſo demanded aſſiſtance from the crowns of France and Sweden, as principal guarantees of the peace of Weſtphalia.

London, November 27. We hear that, by an order of the council, the exportation of grain in general is prohibited, on any pretence whatever, throughout his majeſty's dominions in Great Britain, &c. and that, agreeable thereto, orders have been ſent to all our ſea ports.

The lords of the admiralty have deſired the merchants to nominate a committee from amongſt themſelves in order to determine what convoys may be neceſſary.

They work extraordinary hours at all the king's yards, to fit and finiſh for the ſea all the men of war, bomb-veſſels, &c.

On wedneſday the tranſports, to the number of 28, being ready, 4 battalions of the Hanoverians embarked at Chatham, in order to their going home; and as ſoon as theſe tranſports return they will take the ſame number, ſo that in 3 voyages they will be carried from hence. Four battalions are ſtill encamped on Cox's Heath, notwithſtanding the ſeverity of the weather.

We are informed that admiral Byng's tryal will come on in a few days at Portſmouth The court martial will conſiſt of 5 admirals and 8 captains.

In the king of Poland's cloſet at Dreſden, a letter containing the following particulars agreed to by him and the queen of Hungary, was found: "That both parties ſhould uſe their endeavours to extirpate the Proteſtant religion: The K. of Poland ſhould have Magdeburgh, Halberſtadt, the counties and cities of Cottus. Pietzete, and Creſſenette: The Q. of Hungary to have Sileſia, Cleve, Gueldernetz: And that they would divide the K of Pruſſia's dominions between them.

Extract of a Letter from Leghorn, Nov 5.

"There is advice by the way of Marſeilles, that Capt. Fortunate Wright has taken and ſent to Malta another French ſhip, bound from Sydon to Marſeilles, eſteemed very rich, being laden chiefly with Rice, beades, and other [illegible]. Great rewards and honours are promiſed to any of the French privateers who ſhall take him. He is a brave, prudent man, and the only courge the French feel in theſe ſeas."

Letter from Winchester, dated Nov. 21.

"Yeſterday Col Cornwallis and lord Effingham marched in at the head of their regiments from Minorca. The men look extremely well and chearful, conſidering the innumerable hardſhips they have undergone, as they declare they have not had a good night's reſt ſince laſt April. They were 6 weeks in their paſſage from Gibraltar. They are going for Norwich, Nottingham, Derby, and Leiceſter. The men give a very good account of the ſiege, particularly that 6 000 freſh troops landed the very night of the grand attack, from France; and that an officer of Cornwallis's, with only 30 men, in Marlborough fort, defeated prince Lewis of Wirtemberg at the head of 899 picked grenadiers. The two regiments had 100 men and 4 officers killed. One tranſport, with a company of Cornwallis's regiment, is not arrived, and it's feared they are loſt or taken. The Welch Fuſileers come in to-day."

CHARLES-TOWN, January 20.

According to our laſt Advices from Antigua and the neighbouring Iſlands, tho' ſome of the Men of War ſtationed there are extremely vigilant to protect their Trade, their cruizing avails but little; the French Privateers, from Martinique and Guadaloup, coming in Sight of their very Ports, and taking the greater Part of the inward bound Veſſels. To what is this owing? The French Privateers are all Bermuda Sloops and Scooners (the beſt that have been built in that Iſland) brought up by their Agents, at * St. Euſtatia, for two Years before the War, and ſince of the Dutch, at the moſt exorbitant Prices; and, being the beſt ſailing Veſſels in America, regard our Men of War ſo little that they daily come in Sight of them, often within Gun ſhot (only keeping a little to Windward, and ſometimes even fire upon them, and while our Ships put about, tack and ſtand the contrary way, and ſo on, as often as our Ships put about. How is our Weſt India Trade then to be protected, and the Succeſs of the French Privateers to be leſſened? It is affirm'd, that it may be done, by Six or Eight of the ſame ſort of Veſſels, mounting 12 or 14 Carriage Guns, well manned, and properly ſtationed, and by no other Means whatever; and alſo, that it would be a great National Advantage, if there could be an entire Stop put to the ſelling of Bermuda built Veſſels to any Foreigners whatever, by ſeizing them wherever they are found. (as the Spaniards have done with our Logwood Ships), and giving others in Exchange or an Equivalent in Money. Our Men of War are nevertheleſs of this Service in the Weſt Indies, they prevent Deſcents being made on our Iſlands, and keep the French King's Ships from cruizing.

We hear, that a great Number of Gentlemen have entered into the Aſſociation for forming an ARTILLERY COMPANY in Charles Town, and have already preſented a Petition to His Excellency, praying that it be form'd and regulated by the Legiſlature, ſo as to be of real Utility and not for Parade; and we hear alſo, that they met with a gracious Reception from His Excellency, who was pleaſed to applaud their Deſign, and ſeems always diſpoſed to promote whatever can be for the Good of the Province.

Tueſday laſt was the Day the General Aſſembly of this Province ſtood adjourn'd to; but the Weather being then, and ſtill continuing, very bad, we hear, a ſufficient Number of our Repreſentatives to make a Houſe have not yet come to Town.

The ſame bad Weather, is probably the Occaſion of Capt. Stuart and the Little Carpenter's not being yet arrived from the Cherokee's. And,

The like Reaſon may be given for the Northern Poſt's not being yet come in.

WHEREAS the Plantation I live upon, has been for many years unoccupied and left open, and thereby become a haunt for ſeveral perſons to make uſe of it as a landing place from the river, their negroes waiting for many days together with their horſes; and ſeeing my tract is very ſmall, and but a few chains broad, terminating to a narrow point at the bluff where I have built my houſe, this practice has been hurtful, and muſt be attended with diverſe and manifeſt inconveniencies to me; and as every planter on the iſland has a landing of his own: I THEREFORE hereby forbid all perſons from making uſe of my landing, and the more eſpecially that the road to and from it now runs through the middle of my planting land, having joined fences with Mr. John Holmes, whoſe tract is exactly of the ſame meaſurement with mine, terminating in the ſame manner at his houſe upon the bluff, and for the ſame reaſons he joins in this prohibition with reſpect to his landing: And if any perſon or perſons pay no regard to this advertiſement (as it is preſumed no gentleman will) they may expect that it will be enforced in a proper manner.
